DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: RCE filed on 4/7/08.
2. Claims 16 – 35 are pending in the case. Claims 16, 24 and 26 are independent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claims 26 – 30 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.
5. Claims 26 – 30 and 34 are considered software per se. Computer programs may be explicitly claimed as, for example, a series of code or instructions for performing functions or may be implicitly claimed as, for example, a system, a module or an apparatus, the latter being the case here in the form of a computer program product.

Thus a claim to functional descriptive material, including computer programs, per se, is not patent eligible subject matter. It should be noted that functional descriptive material claimed in combination with an appropriate computer storage medium to enable the functionality to be realized is patent eligible subject matter if it is capable of producing a useful, concrete and tangible result when used in the computer system.

Further, to expedite a complete examination of the instant application, the claims rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 (nonstatutory) above would be allowable over prior art in anticipation of applicant amending these claims to make them statutory. It is suggested that applicant recite that the computer program product is stored in memory.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 16 – 25, 31, 32, 33 and 35 are allowed.
